

Heat Conduction: Task 25

The image describes a rectangular body with heat conductivity decreasing from right to left and maximum temperature on the right side.

1

The heat conductivity decreases from left to right so the temperature gradient increases.